China investment in the next ten years of British infrastructure will exceed tri

Chinese before 2025 to the British infrastructure investment of 105000000000 pounds (about RMB 1 trillion yuan), energy, real estate and transportation will be the biggest investment object. Reported that in 2005 to 2013, Chinese has investment in the UK for 11700000000 pounds. According to the centre for economics and business research (Centre for Economic and Business Research) and pin Cheng law firm Mason (Pinsent Masons) a report compiled, with Chinese capital seeking safe havens is expected to Chinese overseas investment, investment in the UK will be rapid growth.

The report will be next month by Chinese International Contractors Association (China International Contractors Association) officially published in Beijing. Pincheng Mason partner Richard Laudi (Richard Laudy) said that the prospect is a "game changing event for britain". "We expect that this is the beginning of a major trend, China investment trickle of water will become a torrent of water in the future 10 years."
