South Korean young lady hair transplant after getting bald 300000 claim to the h

South Korea a few hair amount more than 20 years old young lady after hair transplant surgery, but became "half bald".The woman to do surgery hospital compensation claims are presented, the court ruled that the hospital shall bear the liability for compensation.

It is reported that in 2012, 25, A lady by head hair amount rare in A plastic surgery hospital received A hair transplant surgery.Doctors taking it from A lady behind A piece of 22 cm long, 3 cm wide large scalp and transplantation at the site of the hair amount is more rare, is removed the part of the scalp is then suture.

Postoperative found, however, A woman was to remove the part of the scalp infection, lesions were black, the size of adult palm scalp and no hair grow back, but directly exposing bare of the scalp.

At A young age is half of the "bald", angry A woman to the hospital 2 doctors to court, ask the hospital to pay their losses of 250 million won ($1.4 million).Hospital in the end, the court ruled that the parties "excessive force suture lead to wound infection after removed the scalp, and failed to timely processing", the hospital will be asked to pay A certain 54 million won ($300000) of economic compensation and subsequent treatment.